

Post-Council Meeting of the Planning Committee:

* The Planning Committee, augmented by several additional interested parties, met on Sunday (immediately after the Council closed) and on Monday morning.

In our deliberations,

* We set in motion the preparation of the Reform in Action feedback and follow-up;

* We reviewed our finances. It appears that after meeting all of the Council obligations and commitments, and thanks to the generosity of so many, the Council will almost exactly “break-even.”

* We planned distributions of Soundings and the CBRR to the hierarchy;

* We debriefed our failings (for which we apologize) and determined to “open up” the Planning Group to those who could not participate before;

* We heard a report and proposal from international representatives concerning a possible lay synod (Vatican Council 50/Vatican III?) to be convened in Rome in 2015;

* We considered how ACC can complement and support the broader church reform movement and determined to initiate discussions with reform groups to determine how ACC might assist in furthering their respective missions within the parameters of the CBRR; and

* We agreed to continue our deliberations via monthly teleconferences until our next face- to-face meeting and presentation at the November annual Call To Action Conference in Milwaukee.
